

Almaty Agreement of Cooperation

Professor D.Sc. Vladimir Voropaev President of Russian Project Management Association and a visionary leader of project management profession, Dr. Hiroshi Tanaka, President of Project Management Association of Japan and Chairman Global PM Forum and Professor Adesh Jain, President of PMA, India and Chairman of IPMA hereby agree on behalf of Russia, Japan and India project management associations that:

1. We should work together to strengthen and to promote project management profession in our countries through joint cooperation and collaboration in the areas of Research and Development, Education and Certification, Publications and in exchange of information and experience.
2. Jointly organize in support national and international events in project management areas in our countries and globally.
3. To meet at least once in a year to discuss strategic initiatives in promoting project management in economic ,government and public or private enterprises in their own countries and globally

This agreement of cooperation has no time limit except if all the three decide to terminate.

Signed on March 16, 2007 in Almaty, Kazakhstan by

Prof. D.Sc. Vladimir Voropaev

Dr. Hiroshi Tanaka

Prof. Adesh Jain

